VOLUME CVII.--NO. 283. ALEXANDRIA, VA., SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 24, 1906. PRICE 2 CENTS.

Eminent Doctors Praise its Ingredients.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "in Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhœa; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women, constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding), due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhœa (suppressed or absent monthly periods), arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and anæmic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions * * * and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named indients and cures the diseases for which y are recommended.

KILLED HUSBAND AND HERSELF.

James Hatfield Delaney, rated as a millionaire and vice president and treasurer of the American Shipping Company, with offices at 214 Clark street Chicago, and with branch offices at 29 Broadway, New York city, and in St. Louis, was shot and killed while asleep in his room, at 492 LaSalle avenue, Chicago, early yesterday morning by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown Delaney, a former actress and daughter of Charles Edward Brown, of Wills Point, Tex., formerly proprietor of the Hotel Delprado.

After firing one bullett into her husband's brain and another which buried itself in the pillow beneath his head, and while in the attitude of prayer she placed the muzzle of the revolver in her own mouth and fired, falling dead within a few feet of where Delaney's body lay.

The police are loooking for two women frequently seen in company with Mrs Delaney and three men, whose identity has not been established, in hope that they may give information which will explain a motive for the tragedy.

So far the only motive which the police can ascribe for the double crime is that Delaney and his wife quarreled over some subject not yet known.

A quart whisky bottle, nearly empty, and remnants of a lunch found in the room, the police believe, may also have had something to do with the tragedy.

Other stories are told to account for the double tragedy. One is that Mrs. Delaney had been very jealous of her husband. A theory ascribing an entirely different cause has it that Delaney, though supposed to be a multi-millionaire, and the head of a $40,000,000 concern, has actually been financially embarrassed for sometime, and that his wife, knowing of their impending poverty, preferred death for both.

Delaney was about 36 years old and his wife about 28. Before her marriage the latter was Miss Bessie Brown. Her father, who owns thousands of acres of land in the Southwest, is seprated from his wife, and Miss Brown has spent most of her life in Chicago.

After finishing a course at the Chicago Dramatic School, she married several years ago, and went on the stage later under the name of Bessie Mortimer, making her debut in "The Silver Shield."

After the murder the woman appears to have sat for hours beside the bed before she could bring herself to the point of suicide. Finally she thrust the muzzel of the revolver into her mouth and pulled the trigger. Her hand clutched the revolver when the bodies were discovered.

President Smith Fined.

Joseph F. Smith, president of the Mormon Church yesterday, afternoon appears in the District Court before Judge Ritchie, in Salt Lake City, Utah, pleaded guilty to a charge of unlawful cohabitation and a fine of $300 was imposed. The charge under which the Mormon prophet was arrested and fined was based on the recent birth to President Smith's fifth wife of his forty-third child.

Early yesterday counsel for President Smith procured a transfer of the case from Judge Armstrong's division of the Criminal Court to Judge Ritchie's division. After the noon recess, when the courtroom was deserted, President Smith went before Judge Ritchie, offered his plea and the fine was imposed.

President Smith addressed the court, saying that his latest marriage occurred in 1884. All his marriages, he said, were entered into with the sanction of his church, and, as they believe, with the approval of the Lord. According to his faith and the law of the church, the unions were eternal.

Judge Ritchie imposed the maximum fine, but omitted the jail sentence of from one day to six months, which he might have imposed under the Utah statue.

Worked 53 Years on a Picture.

Thomas Ball, the sculptor and painter, who lives at Montclair, N. J., has just completed a painting of Christ which he began fifty-three years ago. The picture, which covers a canvas 4½ by 5½ feet, depicts "Christ Chiding Martha," as told in the Gospel of St. Luke.

Christ is pictured with flowing locks, a full beard and a halo of light about His head. Mary sits at his right with her eyes fixed on His face.

Her sister Martha stands at the left of Christ, with her head slightly turned away. The background is black, but a shaft of sunlight enters thought an open door, while beyond the hills and dales of Palestine are seen.

Mr. Ball began the picture in Boston fifty-three years ago, when he was thirty-four years old, but has been unable to finish it until now because his work as a sculptor took up his time.

Mr. Ball, at the age of eighty-seven, is wonderfully well preserved, and is about his studio every day.

Fortunate Missourians.

"When I was a druggist, at Livonia, Mo.," writes T. J. Dwyer, now of Graysville, Mo., "three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery, and are well and strong today. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after using New Discovery a short time he found it unnecessary to do so. I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence." Surest Cough and Cold cure and Throat and Lung healer. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists, 50c and $1. SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SATURDAY EVENING, NOV. 24, 1906.

PAUL STENSLAND'S bitter wail from the Joliet, Illinois, penitentiary should serve as a warning to all in this world who sow with no thought concerning the inevitable crop. This man a short time ago was reveling in wealth and luxury. Today he is known simply as a number, clothed in stripes, and subject to the most rigid discipline. With tears in his eyes the convicted wrecker of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, in Chicago, yesterday uttered the following words in the debtors' department of the county jail:

I am in hell. Every day, every hour, every minute of my life I am in hell. Freedom among the wild Moors and Arabs of Morocco, in the burning, blinding sun of Devils Island, or on the lonely reefs of Alexander Selkirk's island, is a paradise compared to a convict's life in the Joliet penitentiary. To a man of my temperament, hell can be no worse than the penitentiary. No spiritual state could be susceptible of the torture, the awful mental anguish, that I have endured since I was brought back from Morocco and entered Joliet. The petty rules of the institution are almost unendurable, and yet I realize that such rules must be laid down and enforced. But think of it; I was a man who had been a "boss" since I was 19 years old. All my life there were subordinates to do my bidding. Now, I am compelled to march in a line; to stand at a table until a signal is given that I may sit down. Sit down to what? To food that it is impossible to eat; food that I would not give to my dog or eat.

The giant form of the old Norwegian banker was convulsed with sobs as he told of his life in prison, to which he expects to return in a few weeks, as soon as he has testified against Walter Frantzen and the others under indictment, charged with having taken part in the million-dollar looting of the institution which he founded.

MR. WILLIAM J. BRYAN in the Commoner, under the head "Vigilance the Price of Liberty," among other things says:

There are many democrats who are voting the ticket whose prominence in the party would be a detriment to the party. If these men are really sincere in their desire to help the party they will not force themselves into the forground, and if they try to force themselves into the foreground the party ought to thwart their purpose.

Mr. Bryan doubtless means well, but if every man in the party at present, including those he has apparently not forgiven for straying from the fold ten years ago, is to be subject to discipline, the object of harmonizing the various elements of the party will be thwarted at once.

REV. E. L. HUNT, now of Greenpoint, N. Y., who is named as co-respondent in the action for absolute divorce brought in Washington by Charles C. Basset, of the government geological survey bureau, against his wife, Fannie Rice Basset, a daughter of former Senator Rice, of Arkansas, says he is confident that the courts will vindicate him fully as to his relations with Mrs. Basset and refuse her husband's petition for divorce. His impudence equals his immorality. The "preacher" openly traveled about the country with Mrs. Basset, representing her to be his sister and was publicly guilty of other indiscretions which should condemn him in the eyes of all honest men and women.

BRIG. GEN. C. H. NOBLE, retired, at Seattle, says that the President, then Col. Roosevelt, did not lead the main charge up San Juan Hill, that he (Noble) did and that there would be considerable disillusion among the people of the United States if the facts of that campaign were known. Some of the facts are known and one of them is that but for the regiment of colored cavalrymen which came to the rescue just in the nick of time the "rough riders" would have been swept off the face of the earth by the Spaniards.

A FISH TRUST with $5,000,000 capital is in process of organization in Boston. The announced object of the organization is to standardize the price of fish and increase prices and profits. The activity of the federal government in dealing with the old trust has not discouraged the formation of new ones. It is a confirmed habit, says the Philadelphia Record, and encouraged by tariff protection.

REV. ALGERNON SIDNEY CRAPSEY has decided to resign from the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church. He should have done this when he first took issue with the doctrines of the church with which he has been so long connected, and thus have prevented all the discussion which has been going on relative to his case for the past year or two.

IT HAS been discovered that a change of 4,000 votes in the recent election would have served to wipe out the republican majority in the lower house of Congress. Only by this narrow margin was the administration sustained, notwithstanding the confessed popularity of its chief.

Though the bid of the American Banknote Company was $17,000 a year cheaper, Postmaster-General Cortelyou awarded the contract for printing postage stamps to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, Nov. 23.

The Washington navy yard at 5:30 a. m. picked up a very indistinct and apparently garbled wireless message from the battleship Louisiana upon which President and Mrs. Roosevelt are returning home from the Isthmus. All that could be made out with certainty was that the vessel was at that time 530 miles north of San Juan, Porto Rico.

Experiments probably will be made within the next year in printing across the face of all postage stamps the name of the city in which they are sold. This work will be done in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing to which the contract for stamps was let on Friday. It is believed that this will give a more thorough check on sales and prevent the padding that is frequently done in some offices. Then in the case of robberies in postoffices where stamps in large quantities are stolen it will furnish a clue to the inspectors.

Charges in current publications that Commissioner of the General Land Office Richard has acted improperly in connection with the issuing of patents for coal lands to railroad companies have prompted Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock to request an explanation from the Commissioner. The latter informed the Secretary that he will make answer in writting. Asked today when he would submit his explanation, Governor Richard replied. "I am like the quaker. I never act until the Spirit moves me.

Many employes of the Interior Department are anxious to know what is to become of them when James R. Garfield succeeds Ethan Allen Hitchock as Secretary next March. If reports are true there will be a general cleaning out, the land office being the most seriously affected.

Leopold J. H. Herwig, of this city, is among those designated by acting Secretary of the Navy Newberry to take the examination at the Washington navy yard beginning January 15, for appointment to fill the seven vacancies in the list of second lieutenants of the Marine Corps.

App. W. W. and others vs. App. Gertrude C., &c., argued and submitted.

County of Henrico vs. City of Richmond, partly argued and continued until Monday.

Norfolk and Western Railway Company vs. Lynchburg Cotton Mill Company and Schein and First National Bank of Richmond vs. William R. Trigg Company, which are all the cases on the privileged docket.

Virginia Horses.

Colonel Neville, with Welbourne, has won several good stakes during the meets at Pimlico and at Bennings. Dion Kerr, with Follow On, has been landing a chase purse occasionally. Courtland Smith, with Oleroso and others of his stable, has won some good, easy money. In Oleroso Mr. Smith has a most promising fencer. The Hastings horse is a faultless jumper and a fast free runner.

The Portner Brothers, of Manassas—Alvin, Oscar and Paul—have decided to embark in racing with a stable of 2-year olds and Gus Engletine as trainer. The Messrs. Portner are young gentlemen of considerable wealth, and they have been lay patrons of Bennings and Pimlico racing these four or five years. But they never seriously thought of getting a racing stable together until this fall. The nucleus of the establishment with which they will take the field next spring will be three home-bred 2 year-olds by Dolce Far Niente, a stallion they have had in Virginia several years. They are good looking yearlings, and Engletine, who knows something of yearlings, predicts that they will make their mark next season.

Burke's injured are not serious.

Rev. Algernon Sidney Crapsey has decided to resign from the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church. Dr. Crapsey has been pastor of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in Rochester, N. Y., for twenty-eight years, and is one of the oldest canonically-resident Episcopal clergymen of the diocese of Western New York. His voluntary resignation at this stage of the heresy proceedings obviates the necessity of Bishop Walker passing sentence of suspension on him.

The administration will not engage in the project of securing Chinese coolies to build the Panama canal. This decision is one result of the visit of President Roosevelt to the canal zone, and is a part of the change in policy which will be inaugurated by officials in charge of canal administration. It has been developed in connection with the cable announcement from the Isthmus that the first consignment of 1,000 Spaniards had arrived, and they were being distributed along the canal route.

The body of Rev. John Sanford, twenty-six years old, pastor of the Methodist church at Salsbury Center, ten miles from Little Falls, N. Y., was found hanging in the parsonage at that place by trustees of the church last night. The minister had been missing since Tuesday. He had lived alone in the parsonage and fearing that he was ill, the trustees broke open a door. The body was suspended from a stairway. It is believed that temporary insanity was the cause of the suicide.

Miss Ola Kelly, aged 23, was murdered Thursday night at her home in Hollowa, Mich., a small village near Adrian, by Joseph Ehlich, of Adrian, 20 years old, a rejected suitor. Miss Kelley's mother, returning from a neighbor's, stumbled over her daughter's body. Her throat had been cut apparently with a pair of scissors, which were left sticking in the young woman's heart. He went to talk the matter over, and finding her unyielding, he killed her.

On all four of the charges Justice Goldman committed him for the action of the grand jury, fixing the bail in the four cases at $5,000. In default of bail, Prigge was sent to jail.

Stevenson, of Lexington, Ky., who has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. William Furness Jenks, 920 Clinton street. Miss Stevenson is a daughter of former Congressman Job Stevenson, of Ohio, who removed to Lexington, Ky., a few years ago. Then Miss Stevenson became a leader in the social and literary set and it was while there giving a reading that Cable met the woman whose charms he fell a willing victim to.

Education.

The conference on secondary education in the South, which President Alderman, of the University of Virginia, called to consider especially the gap which, in many States, lies between the high school and the college, convened at the University of Virginia yesterday and will continue in session through today.

Presidents of seven State universities and the heads of all the Virginia colleges are in attendance.

In the opening address of the conference President Alderman stated that an enormous growth in sympathetic and intelligent understanding of what the high school means has taken place in the South in the last two years.

The feature of yesterday's session was the paper by Elmer E. Brown, United States commissioner of education, on "What Definite Ways May the State Department of Education Further the Establishment of a System of Public High Schools?" President J. W. Abercrombie, of the University of Alabama, followed with a paper on "The Definite Ways the State Department of Education Could Develop a System of Public High Schools Once Established." Other interesting papers were read at the evening session.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Today's Telegraphic News

The Gillette Case.

Herkimer, N. Y. Nov. 24.—Chester F. Gillette has undergone a secret inquiry into his sanity by three alienists. He has been pronounced perfectly sane. The fact that an investigation had been conducted did not become known until today. With the purpose of forestalling an insanity plea, as a defense to the charge of murdering his sweetheart, Grace Brown, for which Gillette is on trial, the prosecution decided to have the prisoner's mental faculties inquired into.

Gillette's father is a Dowieite, and is said to be a religious fanatic. He sacrificed all his furniture to the Zion City prophet. The prisoner's grandfather, Albertus Gillette, is said to have been mentally weak. Three alienists were brought quietly to Herkimer and taken to the jail. Gillette was told that he would have to undergo an examination and he readily consented.

Gillette was plied with questions concerning his past life to test his power of memory and observation, after which the alienists applied the "needle" test. It was found the Gillette was equally sensitive on both sides of his body. He was blindfolded and a flatiron dropped on his foot. Gillette was given other tests and after a long and severe examination the three alienists agreed that Gillette was mentally normal at the time the girl was drowned, as well as at the present time.

District Attorney Ward has kept the strictest silence regarding the investigation designed to combat every point that the State has made against him. Chester Gillette believes the story he will tell the jury will save him from the electric chair. He rehearses his story daily in his cell. The prisoner each evening goes carefully over the evidence given during the day's proceedings and constructs his story so as to overthrow the points the State had scored in its case. Gillette has prepared maps of the Adirondack region, where the tragedy took place. The movements and positions testified to by witnesses are carefully traced out on the maps by the prisoner, who has constructed small pawns of crushed paper to represent persons. These pawns he moves about on the map. Every morning before the deputy comes to take him to court Gillette rehearses certain parts of the story which he will tell the jury, so that he has become letter perfect.

Chester E. Gillette has an unknown female admirer. Each day the prisoner receives sweetly scented notes signed "Marguerite." No one knows who the mysterious woman is. Often she sends magazines and books to Gillette, and in one of her letters she hinted that powerful influence would be exerted to obtain his freedom. Sheriff Richards reads all of the missives before they are given to Gillette.

Witnesses were called when court opened today to testify as to the manner of the carrying of the body from the Glenmore Hotel to the Big Moose station. The defense hoped to show that the abrasions on the girl's head were caused by being bounced over the heavy roads in a wagon without springs.

John Denit, the driver of the wagon, testified that the wagon had six springs and the road was in good condition.

Sheriff Richards testified today that he found Gillette's tennis racket in the woods near the road which Gillette traveled to Eagle Bay. Richards found the racket half covered with dirt and moss. The web net of the racket was sprung and the sides of the bow split.

Court adjourned with the conclusion of Sheriff Richards at noon, until Monday morning.

Verdict in the Caruso Case.

Naples, Nov. 24.—The verdict of the New York police court finding Caruso, the famous tenor, guilty of annoying women, in the Central Park monkey house, has had a bad echo here where Signora Caruso, wife of the singer, has been prostrated by the news. A cable message from Caruso saying he will appeal from the decision and expressing conviction that he will get justice in a higher court, is the only bit of comfort the woman has received. Signora Caruso says her husband is the victim of an infamous plot. Caruso loves her passionately, she insists, and could not be guilty of the acts charged against him. Opinion generally throughout Italy condemns the verdict. No one here believes Caruso is guilty, as his reputation is irreproachable, notwithstanding the fact that he is constantly pestered with love notes from feminine admirers.

London, Nov. 24.—General condemnation of the verdict finding Enrico Caruso guilty of annoying women in the Central Park monkey house in New York, is voiced by the London newspapers.

Caruso's hearing is described as ridiculous from a British standpoint. The Star in commenting on the case says;

"The method under which the case was conducted was a disgrace to a court of justice. Caruso must have imagined it a comic opera and not a police court. It is not merely the manner of the trial that shocks British sense of judicial propriety but the fact that the police failed to produce the woman alleged to have made the charge, which would have made a London magistrate hesitate to accept the uncorrobated evidence of the police.

"Caruso, whether innocent or guilty, did not have a fair trial. America should be ashamed of allowing justice to degrade into buffoonery."

Caruso today is nearly ill as a result of the notoriety attendant upon his conviction yesterday and owing to the blasting of his hope of acquittal. He did not leave his apartment at the Savoy Hotel and denied himself to callers. The $10 fine assessed against the singer was paid in Yorkville Police Court by F. W. Sperling, of his counsel, today, under protest. Mr. Sperling announced that steps would be taken immediately to have the case reviewed by the Court of General Sessions. While one of the counsel for Caruso was in the act of paying the ten dollar five, another succeeded in having the tenor paroled in his custody until Monday, when the fine must be paid.

New York, Nov. 24.—There was unexpected pressure in the stock market from the opening and in the first hour sustained declines to from about one to over four points. Government bonds unchanged.

Southern Railway Arbitrators.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—Judge George Gray, of Delaware, famed as the chairman of the anthracite coal strike commission, has been selected as umpire on the board of arbitration to settle the differences between the Southern Railway and its machinists. The railway company will be represented by Alfred P. Thom and the machinists by first vice-President Conlon of the International Association of Machinists. The arbitrators with their umpire, Judge Gray, will give immediate consideration to the case. The machinists have agreed to accept the award of the board. According to arrangements made this morning Mr. Conlon will present the side of the machinists in a written brief not later than December 1. By December 20, Mr. Thom, representing the railroad, will file a reply and by January 1, Conlon will make rejoinder. Judge Gray will decide the question on these documents, without oral hearings, and is expected to render his verdict not later than January 15.

Preparing for a Duel.

New York, Nov. 24.—M. Martin, restauranteur, is taking lessons in fencing and practicing with a revolver in secret, his friends say, since he received a cablegram today from Count Boni de Castellane. Martin offered Boni a job as head waiter at a salary of $10,000. This is the reply:

"My friend, Count de Cubsae, will call upon you and demand reparation with arms for your insult.

CASTELLANE."

Martin says he thinks it is a joke and his tone implies that he hopes so. He has never heard of Count de Cubsae. But the most improbable part of the challenge according to Broadway gossip is that the message was prepaid. Few think that Boni in the days of his wrecked finances could have done it.

Emma Calve's Engagement.

Paris, Nov. 24.—The mystery surrounding the reported engagement of Emma Calve, the great singer, was apparently cleared today, when it was persistently reported in social circles that Eugene Higgins, the rich bachelor of New York, reputed to be worth $25,000,000, is to marry Madame Calve. Higgins who is 50 years old, has for years secretly admired the singer. Rumora have been in circulation that Madame Calve was engaged to marry a blind millionaire, but this announcement has put a quietus to these reports. Higgins is known to have a very keen eyesight. The singer is now a guest of the New York millionaire and a party of friends who will cruise about the Mediterranean this winter on Higgins' palatial steam yacht Varuna.

Mark Twain's Book Excluded.

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 24.—Mark Twain's "Eve's Diary" has been turned down by the trustees of the Carlton public library as objectionable. Before it went on the shelves, the librarian, Mrs. H. T. Carpenter, expressed her doubts. Ninety-nine other books were all right. Frank O. Wakefield, one of the trustees, looked over "Eve's Diary." It was not so much the text, but the illustrations showing Eve in the garden costume. Other trustees concur.

New York, Nov. 24.—When told the fate his book had suffered in Worcester, today, Mr. Clemens said the news did not interest him.

Result of an Automobile Ride.

New York, Nov. 24.—William Dorn lies in a hospital today with a bullet wound in his neck. Nicholas Sullivan, a cab driver, is mortally injured, and Earl Wanzer is a prisoner as the result of a wild ride through the crowded East Side late last night. Wanzer is a chauffeur. He borrowed his employer's automobile last night. While he was showing two young women how fast he could go, the automobile crashed into a cab, throwing Sullivan to the pavement and smashing the cab to splinters. A mob followed the auto. The chase ended when Dorn fell, saying Wanzer had shot him. The police saved Wanzer, Brides Arroused by Fire.

New York Nov. 24.—Seven brides were arroused early today by a fire which destroyed a building adjoining the Broadway Central Hotel where they were spending their honeymoon. Seven bold young bridegrooms thrilled with the hope of valiantly saving their "wives." The escapes were exciting, and even the bell boys were interested. The hotel was not damaged. A fireman also experienced a near heroic thrill. He heard cries sounding like those of a baby. Dashing into the smoke and flames he rescued a sad-eyed kitten.

Snow Storm in California.

San Bernardina, Cal., Nov. 24.—For the first time in forty years heavy snow has fallen throughout the desert regions. In the mountains near this city the ground is covered to a depth of five feet. All traffic has been suspended and several mining camps are snowbound. Snow has fallen in low levels at the foot of the hills, even reaching some of the orange groves. So far no damage to crops has been reported.

Threatened by Fanatical Tribesmen.

Tangier, Morocco, Nov. 24,—Tangier is threatened with instant attack by fanatical tribesmen, who are already in the environs of the city, only awaiting the word from their chiefs to make the attempt to take possession. It is probable marines will be called on to land from the foreign warships in the harbor before night to defend the town. Foreigners are panic stricken and many of them have started for Gibraltar. A battle took place last night with followers of Raisuli. The tribesmen were driven off with a loss of twenty men. There are 3,000 marines on the various vessels which can be landed in case there is a repetition of last night's attack and they are being held in readiness to leave the ships at a moment's notice.

To Take Charge of Rockfeller's Church

New York, Nov. 24.—Rev. Charles R. Aked, rector of Pembroke Chapel, Liverpool, England, will take the pulpit of John D. Rockfeller's church. When the Rev. Dr. Aked arrived there a few weeks ago to take the charge temporarily it was said he probably would be called permanently. Last night the pulpit committee and board of trustees of the Fifth Avenue Church, of which John D. Rockefeller is a member, issued the call for Dr. Aked. Dr. Aked will sail for Liverpool to consult his congregation and will then give his reply. It is thought he will accept the call.

Mrs. Strong's Remains.

New York, Nov. 24.—With tears in his eyes, John D. Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate, accompanied by his son John D. and his sons-in-law, Harold S. McCormick, and E. Goggins, charged with conspiracy to commit peonage, late last night were pronounced guilty after one of the most sensational trials ever held in this State. Police Commissioners.

There was no election of a second lieutenant of the police force at the meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners last night, as had been anticipated. The new rules for the government of the force were in the main adopted.

Under the new rules the chief will be the executive head of the police force, and will constructively be on duty at all hours, but he will be relieved of all street duty, the lieutenant and second lieutenant alternating outside of headquarters. Similar regulations existed ten years ago, when one of the members of the force was made a sergeant. A rule was adopted providing that a permanent record of all matters pertaining to the operations of the police department be kept at headquarters.

Charles J. Geisendaffer, the local agent for the Adams Express Company; E. A. McDonald, and G. E. Pickett appeared at the meeting of the commissioners and preferred charges against Officer J. T. Roberts. They were informed that the charges would have to be made in writing, and must go to the commissioners through the chief of police. They announced they would prefer the charges through the proper channel.

The complainants allege that about 2 o'clock one morning this week they were returning from a dance in Fairfax county when Mr. Geisendaffer, who has the permission of the Corporation Court to carry a revolver, dropped his umbrella from a buggy, and in jumping from the vehicle to recover it accidentally dropped his pistol and the weapon was exploded. Mr. Geisendaffer and his companions explained the circumstances to police officers they met. Chief Goods, upon hearing their explanation, directed that they be taken to headquarters. Mr. Geisendaffer and his friends alleged that they were held without the privilege of giving collateral until the chief returned to headquarters, after 4 o'clock in the morning, and that, in the meantime, Officer Roberts denied them the privilege of using the telephone and subjected them to other indignities. At nine o'clock in the morning, Justice Caton, after hearing the case, dismissed the three men.

Officer Roberts says he did his duty as he understood it and will ask for an investigation.

The commissioners will meet again next Tuesday night.

Sunday Evening Services.

The third of a series of sermons under the auspices of the Paulist Fathers of the Apostolic Mission House of Brookland, D. C., will be delivered tomorrow evening in St. Mary's Church, by Rev. William L. Sullivan, C. S. P. a noted impressive speaker of the order. No one who has not as yet had the pleasure of hearing Father Sullivan should fail to take advantage of the opportunity on this occasion, when he will preach on "Charity." The congregation of St. Mary's is particularly fortunate in securing this speaker for these services. The acting pastor, Father Kelly, extends a cordial invitation to his congregation and the public in general tomorrow evening especially. Ushers will be in attendance to seat all. The male choir will chant the psalms. Father Sullivan is well known to many Alexandrians as having conducted several missions in this city and is esteemed by many not of the Catholic belief. During the week he expressed a desire to see all his friends present tomorrow evening to greet him once more before he leaves for New York city where he has been ordered to preach every Sunday during Advent.

Skating Rink.

A roller-skating rink will be opened at Armory Hall on Thursday morning next (Thanksgiving Day). A new floor composed of maple has been laid in the Armory and other improvements made. Good music will be a feature of the rink and instructors will be present. Souvenirs will be presented ladies on Thanksgiving night.

Mr. John D. Normoyle, real estate agent, has sold for Mrs. Hattie McD. Ludwig, the two-story frame dwelling No. 314 south Fairfax street, to Mrs. C. M. Schwab.

Concert and Drill.

A concert and physical culture drill was given in the lecture room of the M. P. Church last night under the direction of the Misses Rotchford and class of 1906. The names of the Misses Rotchford and class will long be cherished in the heart and mind of all who were present, as being so successful in such a great undertaking. The students did themselves justice and rendered each number with credit to themselves and honor to their teachers. The cantata, "Celebrating Grandpa's Birthday" and the flag drill were exceptionally fine, being rendered by the class, composed of little tots from six years old and up, who executed their parts with taste and skill reflecting much credit on the successful training by their teachers. The following was the programme: Vocal solos, Misses M. Blanche Rotchford, M. Gertrude Newton, Edith Evans and Bertie Hancock; Messrs. Edward Hart, Raymond Lloyd, Leonard Evans and Everett Hellmuth; instrumental trio, Misses. L. Grilliortzer, L. Hart and L. Dienelt; male trio, Messrs. Evans, Hart and Lloyd; piano solo, Miss Anna Tennyson; piano solo, Miss Bessie Marks; piano duet, Misses Nettie Studds and E. Rotchford; trio, laughing song, Misses M. B. Rotchford, B. Hancock and E. Evans; cantata, "Celebrating Grandpa's Birthday," by the class with Mr. Leonard Evans as Grandpa; flag drill by the class with Miss G. Newton as Goddess of Liberty.

Col. Smith in Richmond.

In a cozy corner at Murphy's the other night sat three democrats who served their party in the legislature in the stormy days of the eighties, when the readjusters were in control, and when it meant something to follow the old flag which now floats victoriously over all the State departments.

They were Colonel Francis L. Smith, of Alexandria; Hon. Henry A. Atkinson, of this city, and Dr. Thomas M. Dunn, of Albemarle. They talked over the fiery scenes that kept the Capitol in a constant uproar, and brought to the recollection of one another many striking incidents, of which the young men of today know but little. Colonel Smith was in the Senate from the Alexandria district, and was the "Chesterfield" of that body, as he was later of the recent Constitutional Convention. He ranked as a strong lawyer, and was a prominent leader on the democratic side. * * * The trio related many amusing incidents arising during their service in the readjuster legislatures along in the eighties, and they enjoyed reviewing the scenes which led up to the grand climax, when the "Big Four" broke away and saved the day for the democratic party.—[Richmond Times Dispatch.

Judge Barley.

The special term of the Circuit Court has come to an end and Judge Louis C. Barley has returned to his home in Alexandria. Judge Barley came here at the instance of Governor Swanson to sit in judgment upon a number of cases in which Judge Haas was interested as counsel before his appointment to the bench. The visiting judge made a fine impression during his stay here. He has a decidedly judicial bearing and his business like manner of conducting court was readily recognized by the members of the Harrisonburg bar at the very outset of his work in our court. He is a young man comparatively, being less than forty years of age. After graduating at Randolph Macon College, at Ashland, he took a course in law at the University of Virginia and then entered upon the practice of his profession in Alexandria. At present he is the judge of the Corporation Court in that city.—[Harrisonburg Times.

Testimonial to Crew.

Mr. Reuben Foster, president of the Chesapeake Steamship Company, a few days ago paid a tribute to the officers and crew of the steamer Charles Macalester, of Washington, making repairs at the marine machine works of the James Clark Company, in Baltimore. It was in recognition of the saving from destruction by fire of the tug Southern, belonging to the Chesapeake Steamship Company. Mr. Foster wrote a letter to Capt. T. C. Ross, of the Macalester, expressing the appreciation of the company he represents of the heroic action of the Macalester's crew which is as follows: T. C. Ross, captain; J. F. Bailey, pursuer; J. H. Turner, pilot; J. Abenshein, steward; B. O'Donnell, assistant engineer; R. Shivers and J. Washington, deckhands; G. Haskins, J. Lucas and R. Johnson, firemen.

Fell from a Train.

Lucille Lewis, colored, fell from an electric train at King and Henry streets between 4 and 5 o'clock yesterday evening and was painfully injured. The train had stopped and the woman was in the act of stepping from it when her foot caught in her dress, causing her to fall heavily upon the vitrified brick roadway. Several persons, among them Officers Lyles and Young, went to her assistance. She fainted and gave every indication of being seriously injured. The woman was taken to Dienelt's drug store where she was revived and later she went to her home.

Attempt to Wreck Train.

A dispatch from Fredericksburg says that what might have been a serious wreck in which a number of lives would have been lost, was prevented Thursday by two colored men who were hunting. They found several pieces of iron tied to the main rails of the R. F. & P. and Washington Southern Railway, one mile north of Milford, just a few minutes before a fast passenger train was due. The occurrence was reported to the operator at Milford, who removed the obstruction.

W. P. TAYLOR, Traffic Manager.

Capt. Mushbach's Company.

A modern d'Artagnan, in the person of a small boy, appeared at the toy department in an F street, Washington, store the other day and asked gravely of the clerk: "Will you please show me eighty soldiers exactly like Capt. Mushbach's?"

"What?" ejaculated the mystified saleswoman.

"Eighty soldiers, if you please," repeated the youthful shopper, and they must be just the kind that Capt. Mushbach learned to drill troops with. I am going to be an army officer when I grow up, and my father says I am too young yet for West Point. He sends me to a school where they don't teach military tactics, but a friend of mine down at the barracks gave me a manual the other day and if I can get the right kind of soldiers, I mean to teach myself exactly the way Capt. Mushbach taught himself to be a crack soldier."

"Who was Capt. Mushbach, anyway?" asked the clerk.

The small boy looked at the questioner with scornful eyes, and replied: "If you lived down in Alexandria, you wouldn't be apt to ask that. You'd know. Why, Capt. Mushbach was the famous leader of the Alexandria Light Infantry. I suppose you never heard of them, eh? Well they used to be the best drilled company in any part of this country, and they went around taking medals and prizes and having girls fall in love with them until no other company could touch them. And it was all because of the captain's eighty soldiers.

"It was this way," he explained, patiently: "When the captain was made captain, it was all because he was popular, not because he knew a lot about military tactics. The captain didn't want to let anybody know he wasn't as smart as he might be, so he didn't dare take military lessons or have a military private tutor—like my cousin—for fear of letting on about himself. At the same time he wanted awfully to be a good captain, so he just bought himself a manual and eighty toy soldiers, and at night, when people thought he was fast asleep, he studied and drilled his troops, and put them through all sorts of manenvers, until he knew all there was to know. Why, down in Alexandria all the boys pretend they're Capt. Mushbach when they play soldiers. He's one of our first class heroes. And now won't you please show me the soldiers?"

Christ Church Sunday School.

Although Christ Church is the oldest in our midst, yet it is still young and ever ready to embrace the best methods and means for promoting the study of the Bible and its interpretation. The old-fashioned Sunday school was good in its way and served its purpose, and well. But, as in the day schools, public and private, new methods of teaching, etc., have been introduced and have proved most valuable to the progress of the youth, so in the Sunday school new methods of work are now being introduced into the schools all over the country. Old Christ Church not wishing to be behind in the forward movement of the church has taken hold of the new system of religious instruction, and is, therefore, the pioneer in this community. The new system of lessons has already been in use for several months, and a new department will soon be opened, announcement of which will be made later. Altogether the school is in a most flourishing condition, and the encouragement the officers and teachers have met with from the rector and the vestry on the one hand, and from the scholars on the other, is most gratifying.

JEWELRY.

is used oftener than almost any other room in the house. That is why it should be made the most comfortable spot, and be pleasingly arranged.

Without cut glass and silverware a dining room makes little impression and is hardly home like. A few pieces tastily arranged will make a better effect than many of them placed indiscriminately.

A silver fern dish puts a finish to the table and livens up the room. A silver set is needed to decorate the sideboard. A few cut glass pieces so arranged as to contrast with the tea set will make the sideboard as it should be. The cut glass required are decanters, berry bowls and fruit dishes. The only other silver piece that should be in evidence is the candelabra.

If you want your dining room to be just so have the bread trays and other trays of silver. Even the crumb tray and scraper should be silver-plated.

The steel knives should have silver-plated handles to match the silver-plated spoons, knives and forks.

If you are not satisfied unless your dining-room is properly fitted, you are undoubtedly particular about your own person. It is just as well that you are. A little attention to your ownself begets attention from others. Wear a diamond ring or two, a locket, watch and chain. As the chain is more in evidence than the watch or the locket, you may as well wear the best there is—the guaranteed Z-K Gold Chain.

Let us fit out the dining-room as well as yourself. Prices very reasonable.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, and for many years under her direction, and since her decease, she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

Caruso Fined.

Enrico Caruso, the Metropolitan Opera House tenor, was found guilty by Magistrate Baker, in the Yorkville, N. Y., Police Court, yesterday on the charge of having annoyed women in the Central Park Zoo and was fined $10. He will either refuse to hand over the money or pay under protest and appeal from the decision to the Court of General Sessions. The fine imposed by the magistrate was the maximum provided for a disorderly case, which was the technical charge made against Caruso, but it would have been possible for Magistrate Baker to have imposed a penalty of six months in the workhouse. This latter sentence, under the ordinary method of procedure in disorderly conduct cases, would have been commuted to five days in the workhouse if the corrections commissioner reported that the prisoner had not been committed before within a period of two years. Hannah Graham, the complaining witness, did not appear to press the complaint against Caruso.

Annexation Case Appealed.

The annexation case in which the county of Henrico is fighting against the absorption of its area by the city of Richmond was argued before the Court of Appeals yesterday on appeal from the decision of Judge Nicol, of Prince William, who sat in the Circuit Court there in the case. The extension, which was ordered under the new act of legislature providing for annexation of outlying lands by cities, has been bitterly fought by the county from the beginning. The decision will be received with widespread interest, as it concerns a number of such cases in the State.
